The acronyms "IPSC", "DVC" and "IROA", the IPSC shield logo, the name "International Range Officers Association", the IROA logo, IPSC Targets and the motto "Diligentia, Vis, Celeritas" are all registered shooting related trademarks of the International Practical Shooting Confederation.

Individuals, organizations and other entities not affiliated to IPSC (or a member Region thereof), are prohibited from using any of these items without the prior, written approval of the IPSC President (or the Regional Director thereof, as the case may be).

SECTION 1: General

- 1.1 An IPSC Grand Tournament consists of two or more component IPSC matches, each of which are conducted fully in accordance with a discipline specific IPSC rulebook.
- 1.2 Grand Tournament Organizers must appoint a Grand Tournament Director to deal with the Grand Tournament matters stipulated in these rules. The appointee may be the Match Director of a component match or a separate person.
 - 1.2.1 Where the appointee is Match Director of a component match, such broader duties and responsibilities must not adversely affect the efficient management of the component match for which the Match Director is primarily responsible. Moreover, such duties and responsibilities remain mutually exclusive.
 - 1.2.2 Where a separate person is appointed as Grand Tournament Director, that person has no authority over the conduct of any component matches of the Grand Tournament.
 - 1.2.3 For more manageable Grand Tournaments (e.g. where component matches are conducted at a single range over one or more days), Grand Tournament Organizers may dispense with the appointment of separate Match Directors for each component match and may instead authorize the Grand Tournament Director to serve as Match Director for all component matches, and to assume all associated duties and responsibilities.
- 1.3 A Grand Tournament Range Master is not required. However, in the case of more manageable Grand Tournaments, organizers may dispense with the appointment of separate Range Masters for each component match, and may instead appoint a Grand Tournament Range Master to serve as Range Master for all component matches, and to assume all associated duties and responsibilities.
- 1.4 Recognized IPSC Grand Tournaments and their component matches are:
 - 1.4.1 An IPSC Handgun match and an IPSC Shotgun match;
 - 1.4.2 An IPSC Handgun match and an IPSC Rifle match;
 - 1.4.3 An IPSC Handgun match and an IPSC Pistol Caliber Carbine match.
 - 1.4.4 An IPSC Shotgun match and an IPSC Rifle match;
 - 1.4.5 An IPSC Shotgun match and an IPSC Pistol Caliber Carbine match.
 - 1.4.6 An IPSC Rifle match and an IPSC Pistol Caliber Carbine match.
 - 1.4.7 An IPSC Handgun match and an IPSC Shotgun match and an IPSC Rifle match and an IPSC Pistol Caliber Carbine match.

SECTION 2: Grand Tournament Structure

- 2.1 Publication: Component matches may be conducted at one or multiple venues and/or on one or more dates, as the case may be. However, the details of all component matches, the associated fees, their venues and dates (including those related to any "pre-matches"), the available Divisions and Categories, and all other conditions and requirements must be clearly publicized, in advance, in all Grand Tournament literature, promotional material, websites etc.
- 2.2 Registration: Competitors applying for registration in the Grand Tournament must submit the appropriate form and associated fee to Grand Tournament Organizers, within the time frame and manner prescribed, prior to attempting any courses of fire in any component match, failing which their registration will not be accepted. If permitted by Grand Tournament Organizers, competitors may register for individual component matches only, instead of for the Grand Tournament, in which case they will not be entitled to Grand Tournament recognition.
- 2.3 Balance: At the commencement of a Grand Tournament, the total points available in any component match should not vary by more than 25% of the total points available in any other component match.
- 2.4 IPSC Sanctioning: Provided all component IPSC matches in a Grand Tournament are individually sanctioned by IPSC at the same level, the Grand Tournament will automatically be sanctioned by IPSC at the same level.
- 2.5 Divisions: Grand Tournament Divisions are outlined in Appendix A2. Acceptance by the Range Master of a competitor in a division in a qualifying component match is deemed to be confirmation that the competitor has complied with all the requirements of that Division in the component match.
- 2.6 Categories: Grand Tournament Organizers are entitled, at their discretion, to recognize Grand Tournament categories, based on existing IPSC criteria as stated in IPSC discipline specific rulebooks.
- 2.7 Teams: Grand Tournament Organizers are entitled, at their discretion, to recognize Grand Tournament teams by Grand Tournament division, based on existing IPSC criteria as stated in IPSC discipline specific rulebooks, for which an additional fee may be required. Such fee must not exceed 50% of the highest fee payable for a team in a single component match.
- 2.8 Disqualifications: A disqualification incurred by a competitor in one component match, will not affect that competitor's past or future participation in other component matches, subject to the following:
 - 2.8.1 The competitor's final result for the component match where the disqualification was incurred will be recorded as zero towards Grand Tournament results.
 - 2.8.2 The competitor's scores for other component matches (or parts thereof), will not be affected and will continue to stand for score towards Grand Tournament results.
 - 2.8.3 A competitor who incurs a match disqualification in one component match is prohibited from further shooting activities of any kind pertaining to the Grand Tournament, held on the same day and at the same shooting range where the match disqualification was incurred, irrespective of the layout of that range or the type of firearm to be used.
 - 2.8.4 Subject to the approval of the Match Director of other component matches where the competitor has not been disqualified, the affected competitor should be permitted to resume participation in those component matches on another day, and such rescheduling should not be unreasonably denied (see Rule 6.6.1 of discipline specific rule books).

SECTION 3: Scoring

- 3.1 Each component match must be scored separately and independently of any other component match.
- 3.2 Grand Tournament results will be calculated, by Grand Tournament division, by treating the actual unadjusted match percentile attained by each competitor in each component match as Grand Tournament points, calculated to four decimal places, as illustrated in the following example:

3.2.1:

Competitor registered in Grand Tournament Open Division
Component Match/Division	Percentile Attained	Grand Tournament Points
Handgun – Open	79.4562%	79.4562
Shotgun – Open	82.8473%	82.8473
Rifle – Open Semi-Automatic	45.1097%	45.1097
Total Grand Tournament Points:		207.4132

3.2.2: The "percentile attained" in the above example means: "the percentile attained by each competitor against all other competitors in the component match and division, including competitors who are not registered for the Grand Tournament".

- 3.3 Ties in the top 3 places in Grand Tournament divisions must be broken by reference to the percentiles attained by each competitor in the component matches, in descending order, until the tie is broken. In the following example, Competitor A with the highest single percentile (89.0657%), wins over Competitor B in Grand Tournament Production Division, even though the total Grand Tournament points of each competitor are identical.

3.3.1:

Competitor A registered in Grand Tournament Production Division
Component Match/Division	Percentile Attained	Grand Tournament Points
Handgun	89.0657%	89.0657
Shotgun	81.2378%	81.2378
Rifle	45.1097%	45.1097
Total Grand Tournament Points:		215.4132

Competitor B registered in Grand Tournament Production Division
Component Match/Division	Percentile Attained	Grand Tournament Points
Handgun	79.4562%	79.4562
Shotgun	85.8473%	85.8473
Rifle	50.1097%	50.1097
Total Grand Tournament Points:		215.4132

- 3.4 Provisional Grand Tournament results must be posted at the Grand Tournament stats area as soon as possible but not later than 24 hours after the results of all component matches have been declared final by the relevant Match Directors.
- 3.5 Competitors who fail to challenge provisional Grand Tournament results with the Grand Tournament Director within 1 hour of their posting and prior to when the Grand Tournament results have been declared final by the Grand Tournament Director, will not have any further recourse.
